Jason,

Bachand Group has nothing to do with this project, it is our parent company

Bachand Estates LLP is the owner and manager of the building and should be the one that is listed on the documents if that is what the question is.

Adam, the state is finishing up the closure and have a question regarding the difference between Bachand Group vs. Bachand Estate, LLC.

If one is just dba the other they just need to know that. So if you could just clarify the difference hopefully we can have this wrapped up and completed.

Call if you have any questions.
Thanks,

Adam, just wanted to let you know that we will have someone on-site today to take care of the well abandonment. Once complete we will submit the forms to the state and they will issue the "Final Closure" letter.

If you have any questions please call or email.
Thanks,

Jason Powell
