No we do not have any of that information. I do know that some of the wells were shared between more than one home. We are not well contractors just utility.

Thanks again for the plans, Randy. Wondering if you have answers to any of the following questions, as well:

1. Do you know if any of the former private wells were converted into monitoring wells and how many?
2. Do you have copies of any of the well abandonment forms for the private wells that were abandoned when the shared well was installed?

Appreciate your help greatly!
