Good morning Tauren,

Lots of yeses to share. The first and second round has been completed, and an updated full-scale plan should be submitted very soon. The second round of data is not in yet. We are looking to implement the injection the last week of November.

Good morning,

Please provide an update on the injection activities for the above referenced site. Was the pilot test effective and have you proceeded with a full scale injection? Has any of the proposed groundwater monitoring been completed as outlined in the injection request?

Regards,
