Just wanted to inform all of you that we found another oiled Canada Goose this morning, May 13. Unlike the oiled individual we have been monitoring this past week, this one seems more heavily oiled and hence not flighted.

It is our recommendation to capture it immediately, so we can prevent hypothermia (nights are hovering around freezing). A building (with adequate heat) that will lend itself to temporarily house the impacted animal has been procured on refinery grounds .

We have contacted John Sager to get the OK to take this action. However, Jenny Schlieps will contact Tamara Ryan Monday morning to discuss how proceed.

Please let me know if you have any question.

Regards,

Chris
