Hi Sarah,

The DNR's current legal authority hasn't changed since the June 2022 DNR's request for a stay was granted as outlined in the RR Report on Regulation of PFAS under the Spills Law posted on June 10, 2022, see link: <https://rr-report.blogs.govdelivery.com/2022/06/10/update-on-lawsuit-re-regulation-of-pfas-under-spills-law/>. If you have any questions, please let me know.

Regards,

Thank you Tauren. To assist us with our access request, would you please provide us with the WDNR's current legal authority to regulate PFAS in groundwater? Alternatively, we could look into changing the proposed scope of work. Thank you.

Hi Emma,

DNR will provide a 30 day extension past the current August 26, 2022 deadline for the site investigation work to be initiated, so the new deadline will be September 26, 2022. Continue to try to gain access to the property to commence work. Please provide a summary and documentation to the DNR of your efforts you have made to try to gain access to the property so far from the current owner. After documenting multiple attempts, the DNR may be able to assist you with trying to get access to the property.

Regards,

We are committed to service excellence.
