

Yellow Lake Lodge – Video Review 2011

Yellow Lake Lodge launch was the busiest launch for 2011 with 6,678 videos captured compared to 4,366 videos in 2010. Of these, 701 were launches. It had no potential violations identified which was an improvement over last year where it had the most potential violations. Like the other launches there was an outage due to the fourth of July storm that lasted 2 weeks until network equipment could be reordered and installed. The new antenna installed provides a significantly stronger signal across the lake.

CBCW inspectors were present from Northland College as part of the grant. 129.75 hours were spent at this site by these paid inspectors. While volunteer inspectors were active for YLRA, it is not known how many hours they spent and at which sites. As the Northland College students have to return to class by beginning of September, an effort to enlist aid of volunteers after Labor Day would be helpful to ensure in-person inspections continue.

The wireless router for the Wireless Access Point failed in the fall after the end of the season and will have to be replaced. This will be done before the spring and be less than $100 for the router and work to reinstall. ESP reviewed all the videos even though the number of videos captured was higher than last year.

Yellow Lake Jeffries – Video Review 2011

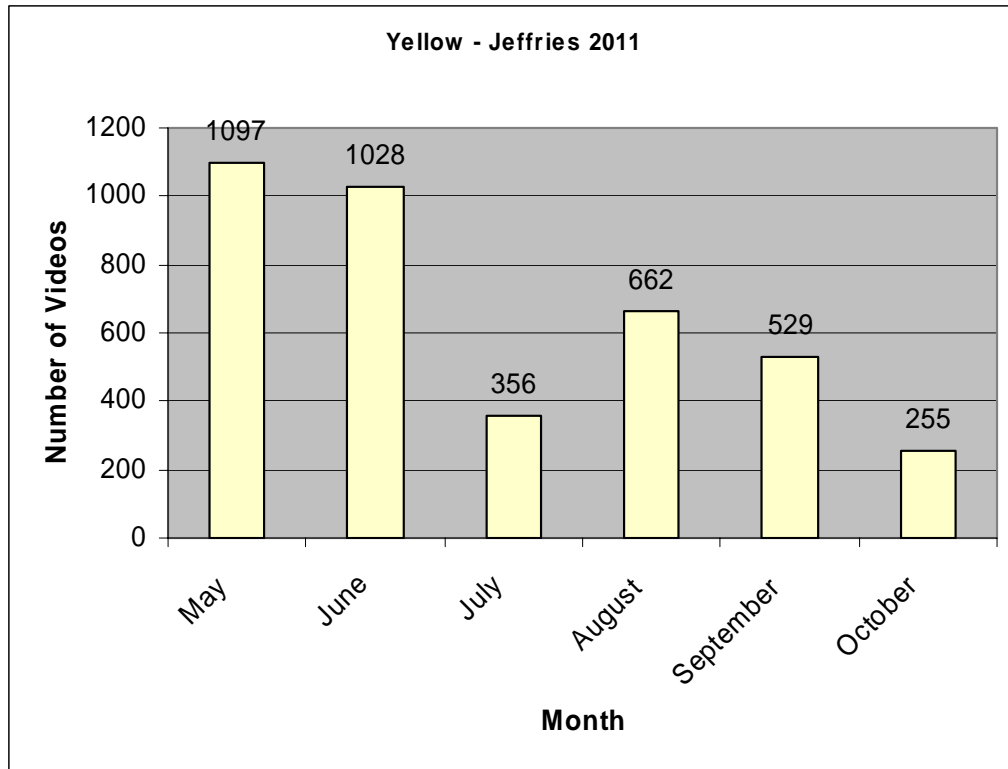

Jeffries boat launch was the 2nd busiest launch for 2011 with 3,927 videos captured compared to 2,093 videos in 2010. Of these, 486 were identified as launches. There were 4 potential violations identified compared to no violations identified in 2010. These need to be reviewed and discussed with relevant county officials to identify the specific action taken. Like the other launches there was an outage due to the fourth of July storm that lasted 2 weeks until network equipment could be reordered and installed.

CBCW inspectors from Northland College focused on this launch as part of the grant. 147.33 hours were spent at this site by these paid inspectors. While volunteer inspectors were active for YLRA, it is not known how many hours they spent and at which sites. As the Northland College students have to return to class by beginning of September, an effort to enlist aid of volunteers after Labor Day would be helpful to ensure in-person inspections continue.

ESP reviewed 3200 of the captured videos due to some scheduling issues and because of the latency did not review the old videos. The videos captured were twice as many as last year.

Yellow Lake Ike Walton Launch - Video Review 2011

Ike Walton launch was as in previous years the least busy of the all the launches with a lot of folks driving thru without a boat or trailer. This site had several issues with operation this season. First, there was an extended period where the launch was without power and covered with trees and debris at the launch site. It took several calls to Northwest Electric to finally have power restored to the I-LIDS as the utility was active with other repairs. Also, the timer had issues that were difficult to diagnose and so ESP eventually replaced it with a new timer. There were 313 videos captured with only 16 launches seen. Fortunately, no violations were seen. The launch sign was stolen from the post and so this should be replaced. We do not anticipate the same operational issues next year at this site; however boat launch activity will probably be lowest again of the 3 launch sites.

Recommendation is still to have limited intern time at this launch due to the risk but when they are here to spend time early in the morning on Saturday or Sunday and then again between 2-4pm.
