6. Summary of Project Challenges. (Space will expand to fit your text.)

Shortly after receiving notification of approval of TRM funding the previous owner of this property went into foreclosure and abandoned the site. Not knowing how the foreclosure would affect the funding for the planned BMP installation LWRD staff postponed installation until the property was not bank owned. After hearing the property was purchased by a local farmer we contacted the new owner about the need to close the abandoned waste impoundment. He agreed and LWRD staff requested and extension of the original TRM grant. Since the farmer was not planning on making the farmstead active again closure of the waste impoundment was the only practice needed to bring the site into compliance. Late in the 2011 year the manure pit was closed. As of October 30, 2012 the farmstead is not active other than a half dozen hogs in a machine shed.

Closure of the manure pit went as planned. Pictures are provided in the attachment. Upon a site investigation on October 29, 2012 the site has been revegetated and no signs of ponding on the pit site are evident. None of the other previously planned BMPs will be installed as the site is abandoned.
